1. Welcome and Introductions
2. Presentation on Proposed Regulations
3. Solicit Comments from Attendees
4. Wrap Up/Adjourn

Item #1) Welcome and Introductions – Eric Noack, NDEP

At 9:03am, Mr. Noack welcomed all attendees and began the workshop by describing the purpose of the public workshop was to solicit comments on proposed solid waste fees and increased hazardous waste fees. With the limited number, all attendees introduced themselves and identified the company they were representing at the workshop.

Item #2) Presentation on Proposed Regulations – Eric Noack, NDEP

Mr. Noack showed and discussed a PowerPoint presentation on the proposed solid waste fees and increased hazardous waste fees. The presentation pointed to the inadequate funding source for the solid waste program, the diminishing hazardous waste account, a list of facilities affected by the proposals and NDEP's plan to correct these funding shortfalls. A copy of the presentation is attached to these minutes.

Item #3) Solicit Comments from Attendees – Eric Noack, NDEP

Mr. Noack asked the attendees for any comments or questions in regards to the proposed regulations.

Questions asked by the attendees:

Mr. Franc: asked clarifying questions about when the solid waste permit review fees would be applicable.

NDEP: explained that minor mods that don't require public notice will not trigger the review fee. The explanation satisfactorily clarified Mr. Franc's concerns.

Item #4) Wrap Up/Adjourn – Dave Emme, NDEP

With no more questions from attendees, Mr. Emme described the next steps and our required process for approval through the State Environmental Commission (SEC). Mr. Emme told attendees that both proposals are on the agenda for Wednesday's scheduled SEC hearing, but one or both may be pulled. Mr. Franc commented that the fees seemed high and how did we come up with the proposed fees. He also queried as to if we had looked at other state's fee structures. Mr. Emme proceeded to outline how the proposed fees were decided on. Mr. Noack adjourned the workshop at 9:25am.
